

TECHNICAL COMPETENCE February:

PT. Exa Teknologi, shortened to just Exalogi, is an IT consultant company, specialising in supplying, installing, troubleshooting, supporting, etc. any company's general IT needs. The company will research and find technologies and turn them into solutions for customers. They usually work with network related things, such as servers and switches, but also work with the end-devices as well, like computers, printers, etc.

My position makes me a technical engineer intern in the team. I will learn and study how to operate the software and equipment, and then apply them to client's devices. As a result, I branch out and meet with clients often, building connections as well as learning from others.
